MANUFACTURERS OF DOORS, DOORSETS
AND BESPOKE ARCHITECTURAL JOINERY

Our history

Established in 1990 European Doorsets has, due to continued investment and a dedicated team, become one of the UK's leading suppliers of fully certified timber doors / door sets to both the commercial and public markets with certification through the BWF Certifire Scheme.

Supplying door sets across the industry spectrum, European Wood Products Ltd embarked on an ambitious change of identity in 2003 with a completely new image including a change of trading name to European Doorsets which involved re-branding of the company identity.

Since the name change European Doorsets has gone from strength to strength. Paul Bailey, Managing Director said, "It was clearly a difficult decision to make given that our original name had served us so well over a sustained period, but nevertheless I am delighted with the results we have achieved since the change and the feedback I have received has been excellent".

The privately owned company operates out of a 25,000sq' manufacturing plant using the latest state of the art CNC machinery (Computer Numerically Controlled).

The company continues to develop strong partnerships with specifiers, contractors, joinery sub-contractors and suppliers. European Doorsets provides a comprehensive list of all key personnel allowing customers to make direct contact at any stage of the ordering / delivery process.

"All components are machined in house providing European Doorsets with total control and are therefore not reliant on a third party for any quality issues".

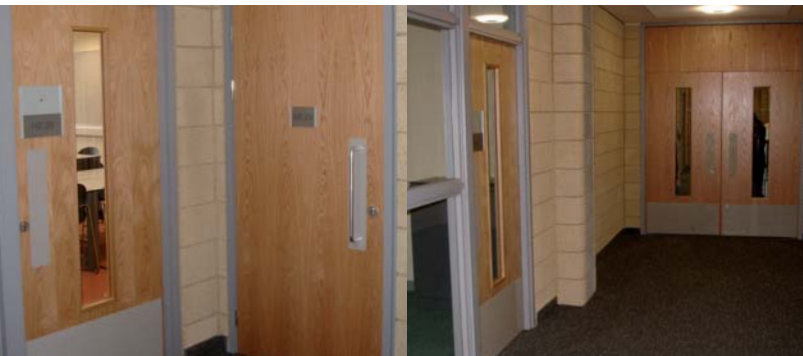

Our standards, our affiliations

European Doorsets is certified to supply and manufacture complete door sets under the BWF Certifire Doorset Scheme, which is the leading representative for fire door manufacturers.

Every fire door manufactured by European Doorsets is easily identified by the permanent tamper proof, easily understood and fully traceable label. Fire door sets have a uniquely numbered label attached to them to identify the manufacturer and other data.

It is the policy of European Doorsets to provide its customers with a high quality service and product. Our commitment to this provision is reinforced through our accreditation to ISO 9001: 2000 Quality Standard, ensuring customers have confidence that their needs will be met from receipt of initial enquiry to final delivery.

European Doorsets is certified to provide timber doors and frames under the FSC and PEFC Chain of Custody schemes which promote sustainably managed forests through third party certification. Where FSC and PEFC certification is not required, European Doorsets remains committed to an ethical timber purchasing policy, using only wood from reputable suppliers and sustainable sources.

“Since the re-branding European Doorsets have gone from strength to strength”.

Case study

Trinity Academy Doncaster. New School Building Construction Project procured under a 2-Stage Partnering process. The school houses in excess of 1,300 pupils of various ages.

The specification

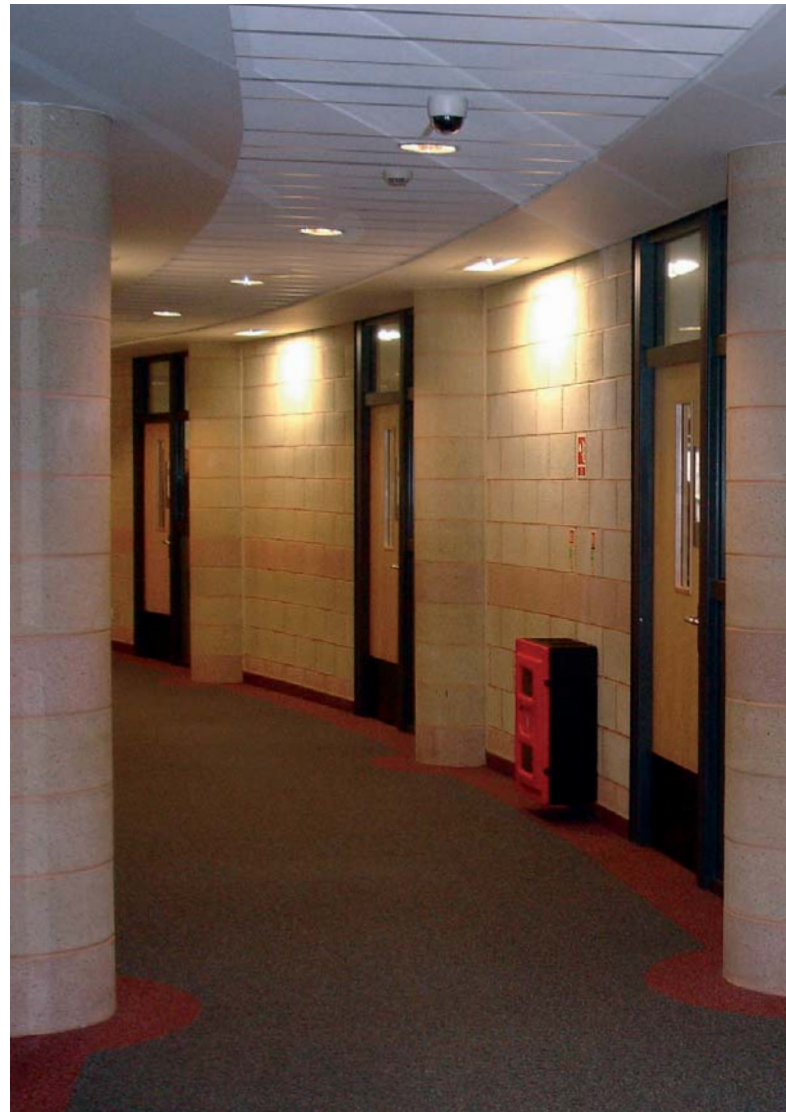

400 plus door sets with numerous bespoke side screens. The doors were finished in a Maple veneer with painted frames / screens and factory servicing was carried out including hinges, locks and closers where applicable.

Our environmental policy

All management and staff are committed to working to reduce our impact on the environment wherever possible. In an age of increasing environmental awareness and legislation, we also believe we have an ethical and a moral duty to incorporate environmentally friendly policies and ways of working into our quality management systems, business strategy and operating methods.

Our policy is to:

- Comply with, and exceed where possible, the requirements of current environmental legislation and codes of practice
- Minimise our waste, and to reuse or recycle it wherever possible
- Ensure all employees understand our Environmental Policy and adhere to the high standards we set ourselves
- Address complaints about any breach of our environmental policy quickly and to the satisfaction of all involved
- European Doorsets also fully subscribes to and endorses the principles of the FSC, and other certified Chain of Custody schemes, and is committed to sourcing timber from ethical suppliers in all cases. Full lists of certified products are available on request
